

Open your door!

We really like to travel.
And make real friends all over the world.

How? By opening our doors. BeWelcome let's you get in touch with natives while you travel. You can find a place to stay or let others stay with you. Building bridges between cultures has never been so easy.

Nothing that you have to do

There are no obligations. You give just what you can. Invite a traveller for diner or just show him around, tell them about activities in your city or just go out for one night. The possibilities are endless.

You won't believe it - it's free and open for everyone

Yes, that is right: It's free. It's democratic and open up for all. Run by volunteers, it's aim is not profit neither glory but one simple idea: It's just called hospitality and we're addicted to it.
